Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
  - If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
  - If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
  - Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133).
- Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTIONDouble Patenting

1. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-37 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 26-40 of U.S. Patent No. 6,442,958 in view of Chandler et al. (U.S. Patent Number 6,155,066). Knowles ('958) claims a method for introducing fluid into a fluid system comprising: transferring a fluid from a container into a cavity of a fluid delivery apparatus, thereby reducing pressure in the container; introducing the fluid from the cavity into the fluid system; and equalizing pressure within the container to ambient pressure. Knowles ('958) discloses the invention substantially as claimed. However, Knowles ('958) does not disclose the method comprising filling the container with a fluid and threaded attaching the container to the fluid delivery apparatus. Chandler et al. disclose filling the container with a fluid and attaching the container to the fluid delivery apparatus in the same field of endeavor for the purpose of delivering fluid. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide the method of Knowles ('958) with a filling the container with a fluid and threaded attaching the container to the fluid delivery apparatus in view of Chandler et al. so as to deliver the fluid from the container to the cavity. The container sizes and fluid in the container are users' choice based on the application.
